

Warmest of welcomes awaits at Uber Beauty

BEAUTY has entered a new era, bringing with it elite beauty clinic Uber Beauty, situated on London Road, Stockton Heath.

Upon entering the salon, you are immediately struck by the luxury and grandeur of the surroundings. An open fire burns invitingly, illuminating the period features of the interior.

A warm welcome awaits from owner Molly Hanson Steel, who has been in the beauty industry for 17 years and is a lecturer in holistic complimentary therapy at Liverpool Community College.

Having held clinics for laser teeth whitening and semi-permanent make-up in salons across the country with her successful Wakeup Beautiful Company, Molly is now offering these much sought-after treatments in Stockton Heath.

She also provides 'signature treatments' designed for the individual, using an exclusively sourced range of organic skincare products which have been approved by The Soil Association. The products are so natural and pure that they even come in a range for babies!

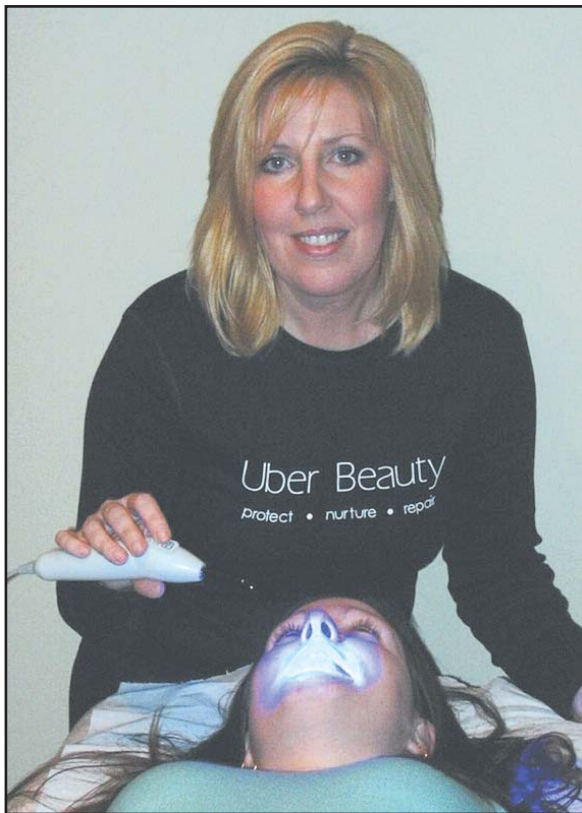

IPL (Intense Pulsed Light) therapy is available for the permanent removal of unwanted

RIGHT: Molly uses laser teeth whitening to remove even the most stubborn of stains hair, which involves directing light energy down the hair where it is converted to heat and completely kills the root, preventing regrowth.

Lisa, a client of Molly's was happy to comment on her experience of IPL: "I had my underarms and bikini line done and the only discomfort I experienced was when the light hit the occasional nerve, and even that was non-comparable to the excruciating experience of waxing!"

Molly also specialises in Crystal Clear Microdermabrasion and Oxygen Therapy, being a former national trainer for Crystal Clear International.

She received personal training in LaStone Therapy by the pioneer of the anti-stress treatment, Jane Scrivner, and is looking to introduce this in the near future.

The aim of the clinic is to provide a relaxing, modern beauty experience, tailored to the individual which can be arranged to suite the time restraints of the client.
